

Revolution(s)

4-6 June 2025

Versailles

JIM VANDEHEI

Co-Founder and CEO of Axios;
Co-Founder and Former CEO of POLITICO

-  Ground-breaking journalist and entrepreneur who upended traditional political reporting
-  Named to Vanity Fair's "100 Most Powerful Information Age Thinkers" list for creating "the model for the new media success story"
-  Speaks with charisma and passion about the political trends shaping DC

Jim VandeHei is one of the most celebrated media and political thinkers of his generation. He is the co-founder and CEO of Axios, a media company designed to get people smarter, faster on politics, technology, media, and business. A longtime White House reporter before creating and running both Politico and now Axios, VandeHei offers a clinical, insider's view on politics, AI, starting and running companies, and the modern media ecosystem. He has co-moderated two presidential debates, wrote two bestselling books, and won numerous accolades, including the industry's Lifetime Achievement Award in 2024.